

Donguk Park
National Cancer Institute and Korea Open University

Donguk Park is currently a professor in the Environmental Health Department at the Korea National Open University. Donguk Park received his DrPH from Seoul National University, South Korea, in 1995. He is a Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) that he received from ABIH in 1999. He did his post-doc from University British Columbia in Canada from 1999 to 2000. His research Fellow at the National Cancer Institute in US from Aug, 2007 to Aug 2008.

Donguk Park's major interests related MWF are: Bioaerosol and microbes generated metalworking operation, and retrospective estimation of fluid aerosol exposure level in epidemiological study.